Discounted Introductory Period

If a discounted, introductory, or promotional offer is included with your prepaid membership, the terms (including availability and duration) will be specified at the time of purchase and may vary. At the end of the promotional period, no automatic charges will occur unless a new plan is purchased. If it is determined that a customer is not eligible for a promotional rate, Cobblestone reserves the right to revoke the discount and adjust the membership status accordingly, including placing the membership on hold or inactive.
